THE following Address to His Majesty from the Lieutenant General Council and Assembly of the Island of St. Christopher's, having been transmitted hither, has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, by Mr. Du Port, Agent for that Island, Introduced by the Right Honourable Paul Methuen, Esq; One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

St. Christophers.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.
The humble Address of the Lieutenant General Council and Assembly of this your Majesty's Island.

Dread Sovereign,

OUR Laws, Religion and Liberties, now every one sees, were near being Invaded by a Party, who, for the sake of some Private Advantages they had the Opportunity of securing to themselves, would have Fostered upon the Nation a Pretender, accompanied with those Two inseparable Monsters, Popery and Slavery. But to recover our sinking Liberties, the Divine Being, who disposeth of Crowns and Kingdoms as he pleaseth, did not only frustrate their wicked Attempts, but made some of them as it were Instruments of bringing over your most Sacred Majesty in a Glorious and Peaceful Manner to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors. This revived the drooping Spirits of all your Majesty's Loyal People; removed their Fears and Jealousies, and effectually restored to them their former Peace and Tranquility of Mind.

After this it could hardly be imagined, that a Monster produced from the unnatural Seed of Rebellion, should lye in Embryo, and in a most astonishing manner break forth, as if Hell itself (to blacken the Crimes of the Conspirators) had joined in the Conspiracy to extirpate the Protestant Religion; to put by your Majesty's most undoubted Right to Throne of your Dominions, and Enslave the Liberties of all Europe. Yet such was the Malignity of their inveterate Malice, that they endeavoured to put in Execution these abominable Designs! But (for ever blessed be the Supreme Ruler of the World,) they found it as impossible to alienate the Hearts of your Subjects, as impracticable to contend with your Majesty's Arms. And (having made their last Effort) left the Scepter of the British Empire to be swayed in an uninterrupted Succession, by your most excellent Majesty and your Royal Progeny (we hope) to the End of Time.

The glorious Successes and Advantages your Majesty's Subjects have every where enjoyed since your happy Accession to the Throne, are, next to the Divine Providence, which always attends the Righteous Cause, to be acknowledged to your Majesty's most prudent Choice of fit Ministers, to serve your Majesty in Field and State, and to dispence to all your People the Blessings your Majesty designs them of Protection and Justice.

Of this your Majesty's great Wisdom we of this Island are at this Time more sensible; and particularly rejoyce in the Chief Governour your Majesty hath been pleased to set over us, whose fortunate Conduct formerly in the Defence of this Island, and equal Administration of the Government whilst honoured with that Trust, then endeared him to the People, and are now a certain Earnest of our coming Happiness under his Care.

That all the Designs of your Majesty's open and secret Enemies; Treasonably formed against your Royal Person, may end in Shame and Confusion; that your Reign may be very Long and exceeding Happy over a Free and Loyal People; and that when the Thread of Life is spun out beyond the common Course of Human Nature, your Majesty's Piety, Magnanimity, Justice, Clemency, and all your other Princely Vertues, may be hereafter Rewarded by the Eternal King of Kings with a Glorious and Everlasting Crown of Bliss, are the most sincere and ardent Prayers of,

Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects.

Vienna, July 18. 'By the Advices which came last Post from Hungary, we reckon the Imperial Army is on the march towards Belgrade, in order to cover the Siege of that Place. 'A Mortality has begun among the Troops and Horses of our Army, but 'tis hoped the Precautions used will prevent its spreading: In the mean time Prince Eugene of Savoy has distributed Money among the Soldiers as well as among the Officers, that they may provide themselves with all Necessaries, and want nothing that is fit for them. Letters from Segedin of the 12th Instant relate, that 45000 Tartars under the Command of the Sons of the Cham, have joyned the Grand Vizier near Nissa; and that Count Esterhasi has collected a Body of Men of divers Nations, viz. Germans, Swedes, French, Poles, and Hungarians, who are to be commanded by a French General, whose Name is not yet made publick.

London.

London, July 28.

Yesterday arrived one of His Majesty's Messengers Express from Hanover. He came from thence on Wednesday the 15th Instant. His Majesty arrived there on Sunday the 15th in the Evening in good Health. On the 16th in the Morning Mr. Secretary Stanhope arrived there from the Hague.

To the Right Reverend Father in God, the Lord Bishop of Salisbury.

The humble Petition of William Paul, Clerk.

Sheweth,

THAT your Petitioner (who had once the Honour to be under your Patronage) is now a Prisoner in Newgate, under Conviction for being unfortunately at Preston amongst the Rebels, whom he left upon the first Opportunity before the King's Forces came up.

The ill Steps he there made, (which were the Effect of Fear more than Choice) he in all Sorrow of Heart acknowledges, and in all Submission prostrates himself, and begs for Mercy, humbly desiring your Lordship to intercede with His Majesty for a Life, which if spared, shall be wholly employed in begging of the Almighty to pour down abundance of his Blessings on His Royal Person, and His Illustrious Family, for the Good of these Kingdoms, and the Church in particular.

And your Petitioner as in Duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

William Paul.
